

The Denominationalist's Bible

To support denominationalism the Bible would have to read this way:

John 15:5: I am the vine, all the denominational churches that will be seen throughout the world one day are the branches. Rather than: “ye (individual disciples) are the branches.”

Matthew 16:18: I will build my churches...“ Rather than: “I will build My church.”

Ephesians 1:22-23: And gave Him to be head over all things to the various denominations which are His body. Rather than “church” and “is.”

Ephesians 5:23: For the husband is head of several different wives, as also Christ is head of many different denominations. Rather than “the wife” and “the church.”

Colossians 3:15: To the which you were asked to join the denomination of your choice. Rather than “called into one body.”

The denominationalist has to change 1 Corinthians 12:25 so it reads: “It is absolutely fine to have schisms (divisions) in the body.” Rather than, “There should be no schism.”

The denominationalist has to change the message of 1 Corinthians 3:3 from: division is a work of carnality, to division (i.e. denominationalism) is a mark of spirituality.”

The denominationalist has to change Acts 8:1 to read: “And at that time there was a great persecution against the Churches which were at Jerusalem; and the various denominations were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judaea and Samaria, except the Baptists (or the Catholics, or the Methodists, etc). Rather than “church” & “was” & “they” & “apostles.”

The denominationalist has to change Acts 2:47 so it reads: “And the people joined the denomination that suited them best.” Rather than, “And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.”

On and on the insanity could go.

The Word of God EXCLUDES the idea of denominationalism. It does not INCLUDE it.

Who is bold enough to change God's Word in view of passages like Revelation 22:18-19?

Do those who accept/support the denominational concept even think about these things?
