

INSTITUTIONALISM THAT'S OVERLOOKED BY MANY

The following information may be seen first-hand at: <http://www.floridacollege.edu/StudentLife/Spirituality.asp>

My comments are in red.

“Florida College is more than classes and campus life. We believe that college should instruct your soul (Where is the biblical authority for a human institution to be involved in such?) as much as your mind and we hope to encourage you to live above the world and look beyond this life. Our professors (Notice that it is the human institution’s professors doing the work. This is not individual action, nor is it organized action at the local church level. It is simply, and sadly, institutionalism.), in addition to being experts in their fields, are first and foremost servants of Christ. As such, they teach their classes with the ultimate aim of helping you become the best servant you can be in God’s kingdom (Where is the authority for a human institution to hire/employ/oversee teachers to engage in spiritual work? On what grounds could Florida College oppose Gospel Broadcasting Network or Church of Christ Disaster Relief Inc.?).”
